Meet our newest member of the team!

Hello, my name is Alex and I’m excited to have recently joined the Love To Swim team in an administrative role. I’ll be helping with emails, class bookings, and general enquiries, so you may see my name pop up when you get in touch. Both of my children swim with Love To Swim, so I already feel part of the community and know how valuable these lessons are. I’m really looking forward to supporting you and your families as you enjoy your swimming journey with us.
